Matt Brown is celebrating 20 years in the real estate industry. As a seasoned agent in the luxury market, he's cultivated a reputation for honesty, diligence, and thorough communication.

"In 2018, we left New York City to focus on our family and have a better quality of life in Naples," explains Matt. "It's been a great experience for my wife and I, and our two daughters, who can spend quality time with both sets of grandparents!"

Matt treats his clients with this same level of care and respect that he treats his family and friends. With his successful engineering background in Silicon Valley, he has developed a unique focus and ability to notice the details that others sometimes miss. "I'm always focused on listening to my clients, paying attention to what's important to them. In this luxury market, we have a very sophisticated clientele. It's the details that matter."
